PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT SESSIONS WITH INTREPID GEEKS

Intrepid Geeks is originated to introduce in-depth understanding of practical and technical skills among students and to provide sufficient knowledge across different domains at school and college level. Intrepid geeks is the platform to seek quality education and knowledge not only at academic level but also at professional level.

CURRENT SCENARIO

It has been noticed that during placement sessions most of the students get rejected due to weak personality and communication skills. The pressure of getting selected is overpowered and sometimes resulting in lack of confidence and increase in fear of rejection.

OUR MARKET RESEARCH

After interacting with almost seventeen thousand students over Intrepid Geeks youtube videos and more than two thousand students at physical level, it is found that students should be encouraged to improve their personality and confidence along with the domain specific preparation to face the placement interviews and enhancing their personality for future challenges. There should be an emphasis on the communication which is important in both personal and professional life.

If we know how to behave in front of a group of people and seniors, we will always get better options in life.

People judge book by its cover and they will judge students based on the personality they carry and by improving it, they will gain control of the situation.

INTREPID GEEKS METHODOLOGIES FOR ALL ROUND DEVELOPMENT

We have designed methodologies to improve the personality and confidence of students through “ Learning By Doing ” Concept .

Our methods are based on analyzing student behaviour hence we are very confident of our approach to lead this initiative.

Activities such as camera facing ,audience facing ,extempores , group discussions are more productive than traditional methods .

The training session is divided in 5 days

Day 1 : Importance of right body gestures and personality development for facing interview rounds.

This session will be based on right body gestures like sitting, standing posture,expressions and body language. It is believed that first impression is the last impression and so is the reflection of our personality through our gestures .

Day 2 : Usage of right words and vocabulary during interview and introduction of oneself

There are multiple ways to say the same thing hence it is important for the students to know what should be the right way to present themselves , this session is one of the important part of training as many students have a lot of skills but they are unable to present themselves in a right way with right vocabulary. So the main focus will be on the soft skills and right selection of words.

Day 3 : Group discussion and confidence building activities

The session will be focussed to enhance the team leading capabilities in students and to eliminate the fear of public speaking and hesitation to put forward their opinions in front of others.

It is one of the important trait that an Interviewer look for which will in future help students to adapt in the team and project discussion activities of an organization.

Day 4 : How to make an effective and precise resume along with pitching your work smartly.

Once students learned how to write a resume, they'll never be far from a paycheck. We're here to explain the ins and outs of writing one, so students can spend less time applying to jobs and more time making money.

Resume is an advertisement and students are the product of it. To stand out from the crowd, it's important that student effectively demonstrates their ability, or else it might get thrown into pile before it gets a fair look by the interviewer.

Day 5 : Learn about the company insights and important details , demo interview sessions and how to face rejections

The last day session will consist of important details about companies , their culture , corporate work ethics and insights about the journey outside campus by some corporate employees and how to face rejections positively .
